The 1976-77 Carolana is dedicated to the past and present administrations, faculties, and students of USCS. For without the efforts of these, there would be no University of South Carolina at Spartanburg.

USC SPARTANBURG LIBRARY
ARCHIVES

Each of us has experienced his or her own personal feelings of achievement. Be it a yes response to an anticipated job offer, the last stride of a cross-country run, or simply the completion of English 101, the sensations of accomplishment are the same. The University of South Carolina at Spartanburg has enjoyed its share of accomplishments. The pride of these first students who in 1969 moved into the Administration Building after being taught in the basement of Spartanburg General Hospital's nurse's quarters, cannot be estimated. The completion of the G.B. Hodge Center only supplemented this pride. Achievement was overcome with feelings of victory when in 1974 USCS became a fully accredited four year institution. A decade filled with countless achievements has past, and the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg continues to progress. This progress is seen not only in its acreage, but in its graduates as well. For it is the goal of USCS to mold students into graduates who will be of service to their communities.

On May 12, 1976 the state certified USCS Child Development Center was opened on our campus. The center, which has capacity for 40 children, is open from 7:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Transportation is provided and the children receive two snacks and two meals a day. There are three teachers at the center, each of whom is state certified in K-3.

"We believe that parents are most influencial in shaping the children and we strive to help parents in developing independent and successful children."

The center is operated on the theory that it is through love, understanding, and patience that children develop to their fullest.

"I learned something today at USCS Child Development Center."

On May 7, 1976 at 8:00 p.m. the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg held it's first Graduation exercises in the G.B. Hodge Center

On hand for the commencement exercises were G. B. Hodge, Chairman of the Spartanburg County Commission for Higher Education, Olin B. Sansburg, Jr., Vice President of the University of South Carolina, Ron Eaglin, Dean of Academic Affairs, H. Willard Davis, Vice President of the University of South Carolina, and guest speaker for the evening Lachlan L. Hyatt, Chairman of the South Carolina Health and Environmental Control Commission.

One-hundred thirty five degrees were awarded. These included baccalaureate degrees in Science, Business Administration, Education, General Studies and Associate degrees in Arts and Technical Nursing.

Don't worry 'bout the yesterdays
Which have already gone,
But plan about tomorrows which
Are just beyond the dawn.

I wish to express a thank you to the following people for their invaluable help on this section of the Carolana: Becky Patterson, who always had a sympathetic ear; Lester Richards, who put up with me, and took most of my pictures; Lynn Clemmons, who helped me type and re-do my section; and last but not least, Marion Murph, who always found the time to help me identify all these people. Thanks again!!

Jeannie McClure and Stephen Groce take a break from the routine of classes at a well-known place on campus.

The Sigma Khi Fraternity of USCS was formed in January, 1977, by a group of students from the SGA and Carolana Yearbook. The purpose of the Fraternity is to give an extra social outlet to USCS students. From a beginning of five students, Sigma Khi has increased to twenty-three members. Faculty advisor is Jimm Cox. The Fraternity meets weekly at Hooleys' Underground, and is made up of brothers and "little sisters".

Some of the members of Sigma Khi are (l to r), Steve Mason, Melissa Hayes, Lynn Whiten, and Ronda Hayes.

Communications Fair - '76

Jimm Cox demonstrates the art of Theatre make-up on "Spoon River Anthology" actor Joel Hawkins.

April 6 and 7, 1976 brought an interesting feature to USCS: "People to People." The Spring Communications Fair featured demonstrations from the departments of Art, Journalism, Theatre and Audio-Visuals. The pictures below and to the right show various demonstrations students and faculty members participated in.

"I see your mommie!"

"How about a little kiss?"

"Maybe he has a fixation."

"I wouldn't drink that."

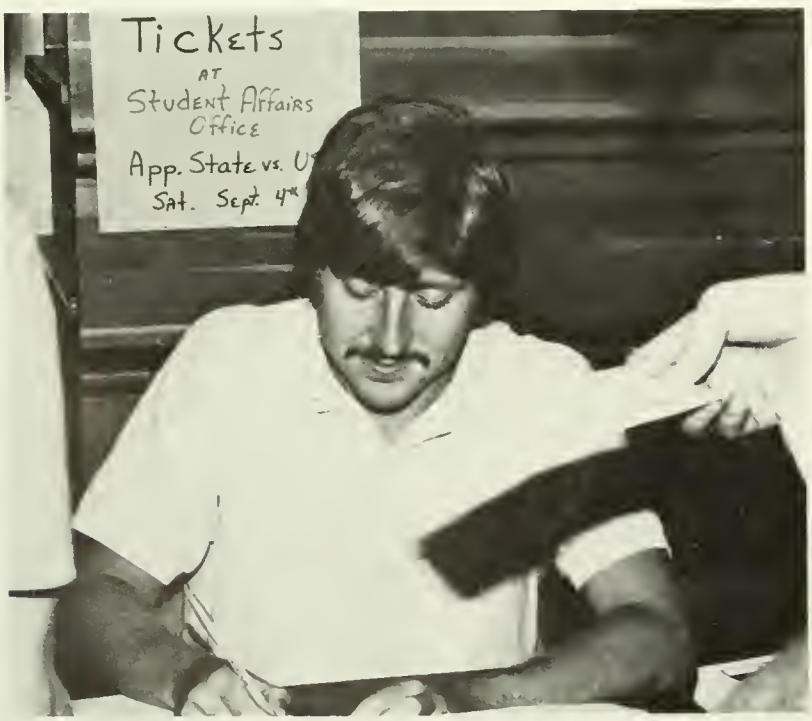
Registration
Fall '76

Promote that paper, Molly!

Like at any other University, half the fun of beginning a semester at USCS is experiencing the trials and tribulations of registration. 1976 Fall Registration was no exception.

Card packs, Social Security Numbers, and closed classes contribute to the confusion that makes registering for classes such a joy.

Oh no, Tommy I forgot my number!



Come on Moses, you're gonna make it.

It's people like Mike that could use a higher table!

The Unusual Surrealistic Circus of Surprises

This fall the USCS Shoe-string Players presented an improvisational review to music entitled "The Unusual Surrealistic Circus of Surprises," directed and choreographed by Jimm Cox. All the music and dialogue was original. Musical arrangements were composed by Andy Moller. The cast included Joel Hawkins, Kenny Covington, Alta Snell, Kaye Phillips, Renetta Horton, Teri Dye, Andy Moller, Jane Abernathy, Lynn King and Chuck Thorne. Stage Manager for the Shoe-string Players is Cathy Conner.

Christmas Dance
1976

Katie and Chuck watch dancers as they compare SGA and Art.

One of the highlights of the SGA activities is the yearly Christmas Dance held at the National Guard Armory. The 1976 dance was definitely one of the best. Thanks SGA for a great Holiday get-together!

"I think she has reached her limit."

"This must be the one they call MOOSE!"

". . . and then everyone was beat, except Mike Mathis, of course."

"You make me feel like dancing."

"Shake, Shake, Shake, . . ."

"No wonder those kids are so tired on Monday!"

"I wish Lou could see me now!"

Do it Steve!

Homecoming '77

Homecoming Queen for the 1976-77 school year was Melissa Hayes. Melissa was sponsored by the Carolana and escorted by Gregg Knox. Melissa is a Junior at USCS and has been active for the past three years in the SGA as well as student organizations. She is currently Assistant Editor of the Carolana.

Attendants to Melissa were Gwen Turner, a Sophomore Psychology major who was sponsored by Universal Love and es corted by Andy Moller, and Jennifer Fuller. Jennifer is a Senior Journalism major. She was sponsored by the Black Student Union and was escorted by James Brooks. Gwen and Jennifer are both active in school organizations have contributed to the growth and student participation at USCS.

PLAYERS

Let Army ROTC take you where you want to go.

While you're getting a good education in college. Get the training and experience you need to meet the challenge in any career you choose.

To help you meet this challenge when you get out of school, Army ROTC will help you while you're in.

Army ROTC offers three, two and one year scholarships to cadets in addition to its full four-year scholarships.

You don't have to be a scholarship winner to take Army ROTC or to receive the $2500 paid to all cadets during the last two years.

As a cadet you'll learn how to manage people, finances and materials. While you develop your confidence and your decision-making abilities.

Upon graduation as a commissioned Army officer and selection for active duty, you'll have an employment option starting at $10,500. And with that you'll have the Army experience that will be an asset to you in any career, military or civilian.

When you learn what it takes to lead, Army ROTC will take you where you want to go.

Army ROTC. Learn what it takes to lead!

Spring '77

First in the fall and again in the spring the 1976-77 Rifles were faced with great undertakings and periods of urgent readjustment as they strove continuously to build a stronger, better team.

With only two players returning from last year, it was a constant effort on the part of each player to learn to work with and for his teammates.

One of the highlights of this year's season was the Rifles 2nd place win in the Presbyterian College New Year's Classic Tournament at P.C. on January 6-8. Two USCS players, Lucius Pitts and Mike Swann, were named to the All-Classic Team.

The qualities instilled in these men as well as their athletic ability has made them a team we are proud of.

Take time to work . . .

It is the price of success.

On behalf of the 1977 Carolana staff I would like to express our appreciation to all those patient people who bore with us while we constructed this yearbook.

We are all truly proud of USCS and I hope we have captured a portion of this pride on the pages of this book.
